

Women's Bible Fellowship

On August 18th, the Women's Bible Fellowship begins a five week session focusing on "Courageous Women" of the bible. We will explore heroines of the Old and New Testament. For behind every great biblical man and time period, there are great women as well. Join us as we take time out of our busy week to build friendships and pray with other women. We will meet on five Saturdays: August 18th, 25th, Sept 8th, 15th, and 22nd from 8:15 am until 10 am at St Bernard Narthex. A light breakfast and coffee will be served at 8:15 am followed by opening prayer at 8:30 am. Courageous Women: A Study on the Heroines of Biblical History by Stacy Mitch is the nihil obstat book we will use through the five week course. We have a limited number of copies that can be purchased at our gathering for $10. There is no obligation to attend all five weeks; the study each week is independent of our prior discussions. Each session consists of large group prayer, small group reading/discussions, large group petitions, and closing prayer. Please join us as we embark on our faith journey among friends! Bring your bible and Catholic Catechism!

(FYI: Nihil obstat - the phrase is used more particularly to mean an "attestation by a church censor that a book contains nothing damaging to faith or morals".)
