Seventeenth Sunday in Ordinary Time - July 24, 2022

Dear Sisters and Brothers,

Fr. Abraham
Prayer is the most powerful and the most reliable force in the world by which we communicate with God. The book of Genesis 18:20-32 gives us a model of intercessory prayer provided by Abraham in his dialogue with God. What the writer intended to tell us is something more important. It's the friendship that Abraham had with God, that Abraham would feel free to stand and bargain. But prayer is used not to change God's will but to discover his will, then conform our will to his.

By presenting a parable of the friend in need, Jesus emphasizes the need for persistent prayer, acknowledging our total dependence on God (Luke 11:1-13). This story does not mean that God is a reluctant giver. Rather it stresses the necessity of our persisting in prayer as the expression of our total dependence on God. Persevering in prayer helps us to purify our prayer, to make clear to ourselves our values and hopes, and to lead us to ask for what is really in our very best interests.

The gospel story also reminds us that prayer is not putting coins in a vending machine called God to get whatever we wish. God is our loving "Father" who knows what to give, when to give and how to give. This includes not only our daily bread but also our spiritual needs.

Prayer is a relationship, an intimate, loving and caring, parent-child relationship. The Greek text means: "Ask and you will receive something good," not just whatever we ask for. Hence, we are to be persistent declaring our trusting faith and dependence on God. Both stories are primarily about intercessory and persistent prayer. One friend goes to another friend on behalf of someone else.

A colleague asked C.S. Lewis if he really thought he could change God with his prayer for the cure of his wife's cancer. Lewis replied: "Prayer doesn't change God; it changes me." The value of persistent prayer is not to change God's will but to change our will according to God's will. Keep in mind that Jesus has taught us to address God as Father. A loving Father listens to his child, but does not blindly endorse every request. Instead, the loving Father provides what is needed, including discipline.

Word of Life —“Married love differs from any other love in the world. By its nature, the love of husband and wife is so complete, so ordered to a lifetime of communion with God and each other, that it is open to creating a new human being they will love and care for together. ... That power to create a new life with God is at the heart of what spouses share with each other.” United States Conference of Catholic Bishops “Married Love and the Gift of Life”

Jesus understood well that true power must always serve the needs of others in love and humility, and that we are only entrusted with talents, gifts, authority, knowledge, and wealth so that we can become servant leaders who bring others to the fullness of their human potential by our own witness to holiness, love, humility, and service.

“The ultimate purpose of other creatures is not to be found in us. Rather, all creatures are moving forward with us and through us towards a common point of arrival, which is God, in that transcendent fullness where the risen Christ embraces and illuminates all things.”

“Thy will be done”

Meister Eckhart asks, “Who is the man whose prayers God always hears?” He answers, “God hears the man who appeals to God as God. When, however, man appeals to God, hoping for some worldly good, he is not appealing to God at all, but to what he is asking of God. He is trying to make God his servant. On this point, St. Augustine says: ‘You pray to what you love, for true whole prayer is nothing but love!’ Thus, we pray to what we love, and no one rightly prays to God but he who prays for God and has nothing on his mind but God.” We struggle with what we want

God to do and how we want our prayer validated. Meister Eckhart is correct. We often want God to be our servant. We further struggle with trusting that God knows what we need and that His will is best.

God’s will is not some predetermined outcome of events that we must simply suggest. “Thy will be done” is not an invocation beckoning us to accept a particular state of affairs passively. Rather, it is the humble and confident placement of ourselves in the presence of the God we seek, whom we call “Father.” We must remember that God is the God of life and light. It is from nothing that God brings something and from the darkness that God brings life. Prayer allows us to seek the One we love with the assurance that all will be well regardless of what course the events of our lives take. God is not about passive submission but the humble trust of love.

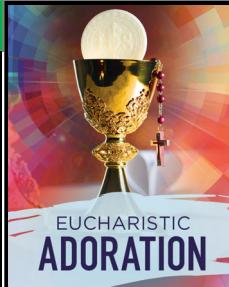

That’s what makes the Lord’s Prayer the perfect prayer. It provides us with proper disposition and focus, putting in line all of the essential relationships of our lives. It celebrates and fosters the ever-deepening relationship of trust we have with our Creator. It also calls us to keep open the doors of love between our brothers and sisters with the power that comes with forgiveness. If in one’s darkest hour they can find the resolve to fervently pray this perfect prayer of Jesus’ conviction, then there is no doubt that God will hear their plea, reach out in love, and bring them ever closer to His heart. What more does one need to weather the storms of life besides faith, hope, and love? These are God’s most perfect gifts and all we really need. ©LPi
