Twenty-Second Sunday in Ordinary Time - August 28, 2022

Fr. Abraham

The Humble Will be Exalted

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

The prominent theme of the 22nd Sunday's scripture readings is the virtue of humility. Occasionally we hear about humility these days. The scripture readings warn us against all forms of pride and self-glorification.

They present humility, not only as a virtue, but also as a means of opening our hearts, our minds, and our hands to the poor, the needy, the disadvantaged, and the marginalized of society. The Book of Sirach chapter 3, reminds us that if we are humble, we will find favor with God, and others will love us.

In today's gospel (Luke 14:7-14), Jesus explains the benefits of humility, connecting it with the common wisdom about dining etiquette. Jesus advises the guests to go to the lowest place instead of seeking places of honor so that the host may give them the place they deserve. Jesus' words concerning the seating of guests at a wedding banquet should prompt us to honor those whom others ignore, because if we are generous and just in our dealings with those in need, we can be confident of the Lord's blessings. On the other hand, if we act out of pride and selfishness, we can be sure that our efforts will come to nothing.

Humility is grounded in awareness that everything I have is a gift from God, and, therefore, I have no reason to boast. I must not use these God-given gifts to elevate myself above others. Hence, humility means the proper understanding of our own worth. It requires us neither to overestimate nor to underestimate our worth. The humility that the gospel urges upon us has nothing to do with a self-deprecation that leaves a person without proper self-esteem. Humility and self-knowledge go hand in hand. We must simply admit the truth about ourselves: we do not know everything, we do not do everything correctly, and we are all imperfect and sinners. Therefore, without putting on an air of superiority, listen and learn from others, open our mind to others, do not be stubborn in our decisions and attitudes.

Nevertheless, we also recognize that we are made in the image and likeness of God, and that we are called to help build the kingdom of God with our God-given gifts. We are of value, not because of those gifts, but because we are loved by God as his children, redeemed by the precious blood of his son, Jesus. Thus, humility is an attempt to see ourselves as God sees us. It is also the acknowledgement that our talents come from God who has seen fit to work through us. True humility is one's own personal recognition of one's true status before God. As Christians who have personally recognized our true status, we will joyfully accept all our gifts, talents and abilities as coming from God and will use them for the enrichment of others and for the glory of God.

Our God himself showed the humility. When God revealed himself in the final and supreme way through Christ, the Son of God, he became man and chose to occupy the lowest possible seat. St. Paul describes it in this way: "Christ Jesus, who, though he was in the form of God, did not regard equality with God something to be grasped, but emptied himself, taking the form of a slave, being born in the likeness of men. And being found in human form, he humbled himself and became obedient unto death, even death on a cross. Therefore, God has greatly exalted him...." (Philippians 2:6-9). Our Blessed Mother is the greatest model of human humility. She said "Behold, I am the handmaid of the Lord," Therefore, she is exalted above all other creatures, Queen of all Saints and Angels. Let us contemplate the humility of Jesus, Blessed Virgin Mary, all the saints and humble people. St. Bernard declared, "Pride sends man from the highest elevation to the lowest abyss, but humility raises him from the lowest abyss to the highest elevation." A life of humble service is ultimately rewarded with a seat at the Lord's banquet table.

Rosary Intention: 'For our youth, may they grow in their knowledge and love of God this school year.'

Yours in Christ, Fr. Abraham Kochupurackal CMI, Pastor

-Pope Francis, Laudato Si: On care for our common home

Parish Directory: The Ascension and St. Bernard's Joint Mission Team selected "Unique Church Solutions" for the creation of a new church directory. This single, new directory will include sections for each parish along with our unified ministry groups. "Unique Church Solutions" provides a dedicated consultant to work with our coordinators throughout the process. To move forward, we are in need of one coordinator and one assistant coordinator from each parish. This is a wonderful opportunity to build fellowship with our faith families while serving the church. For more information, and if you are interested in helping coordinate and/or help with check-ins on portrait days, please contact the Parish Office.

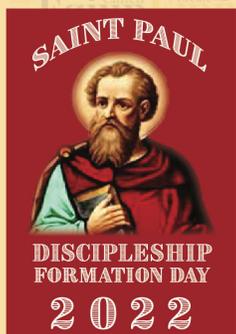

People who are concerned with their own advancement and agenda have little room for anyone else. With an almost addictive pursuit of esteem and acknowledgment from others, they become little more than entitled embodiments of the vice of pride. Public humiliation or embarrassment can hit them hard. While avoiding humiliation and embarrassment may be advantageous to obtaining worldly success, they are much less desirable motivations for entering the Kingdom of God.

Avoiding embarrassment is a self-serving motivation. Pride and all of its manifestations have no place on God's agenda, neither do worldly success and fulfillment. In fact, we have been clearly told that if we love our lives, we will lose them. Therefore, if you really want to find your true station in life, learn to give yourself away.

While this may sound foolish to secular ears, it actually makes perfect sense. God, who is love, makes each of us in His image. Love, and therefore God, is in our DNA. That being the case, love is never love if it is kept to oneself or hoarded. Love needs to be shared and given away. Therefore, it is the only proper motivation for entering the Kingdom of God. The door to happiness is only opened when we realize that all we are and all we have is due only to God's grace. Without God we are nothing.

Love is the remedy for pride and protects us from ourselves. God asks us to be humble. Only when we are free from the traps of pride and arrogance that we can begin to follow the path to true humility. Only one who is humble can rightly love and be of service to God. "God makes use only of the humble as his instruments (Jean-Pierre de Causade)." The humble one does not need others to give them worth and value. Their self-esteem comes from the much more secure foundation of God. Only those who are entirely free can give themselves freely to others. Love must always be our motivation for doing all things. Be content that God has invited you to the banquet of life. Concern yourself with accepting the invitation, and don't worry about where you will sit. . ©LPi

We become what we love and who we love shapes what we become. — St. Clare of Assisi
For it is not earthly riches which make us happy; for they must either be lost by us in our lifetime, or be possessed when we are dead, by whom we know not, or perhaps by whom we would not. But, it is God who makes us happy, who is the true riches. — St. Augustine
